

PRESIDENT ORDERS LIFTING OF FEDERAL GOVERNMENT'S CONTROL OF PRICE OF COAL

NORTH END MEN CHARGED WITH CAR ROBBERY

Officers Arrest Andrew and Joseph Tober, Wound a Companion.

THIRD MAN MAKES ESCAPE

Missing Man Swings Bag of Loot into Face of Officer and Runs, With Revolver Bullets, Raining About Him: Pool of Blood Tells Tale.

Andrew and Joseph Tober, residents of North Arch street, are out on $1,000 bail each today following their arrest last night by Baltimore and Ohio police barged with breaking into and robbing freight cars. They will get a hearing on Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

The officers stumbled on Andrew Tober and another man near the Davidson coke works while looking for obnoxious. Tober carried a suit case, the officers say, and the other man, whose name the officers say they do not know, had a sack. The officers declared Andrew had started to Joseph Tober's house for him when they were wounded down on the pair. The man with the sack swung it into the face of an officer and ran. The policeman tried but the robber escaped. Blood on the ground indicated he was wounded, perhaps mortally. A search as far as to reveal him.

After placing Andrew Tober in jail the officers went to Joseph Tober's home and placed him under arrest, charged with complicity.

The Tober families today denied any connection of Andrew of Joseph with the car robberies, saying Andrew had not the third man in Water street. They had worked in the yards with iron, but did not know his name, it was said. The officers, however, say they found some of the stolen goods at Joseph Tober's home.

Information against the two Tobers was made by the railroad police before Alderman Munk.

The workmen clean up all the refuse which gathers during the winter and remains covered by snow in the mountain passes until spring. Then the train goes over the lines and gathers up the piles.

NORTHERN LIGHTS VIEWED.

Many Observe Phenomena, Visible Last Night, Until Midnight.

The aurora borealis, or northern lights, flashed through the skies last evening. The phenomena was plainly visible for several hours.

In some parts of the country nature's electrical display interfered with wire service, some Western Union lines being completely demoralized for 15 minutes at one time.

DEATHS OF BURLEY BOYS BEFORE CIVIL JURY IN UNIONTOWN

Local Concern Defendant in Suit For $20,000 Damages as Shooting Echo.

UNUSUAL BANKING CASE

One of the most important cases of the March common pleas term of court was called in Uniontown this morning with Perley Burley as plaintiff in an action for $20,000 damages against the Connellsville Machine & Car Supply company which is alleged to have sold to Harry Halley, a minor, a small rifle and cartridges with which the Halley boy, by the careless use of the weapon, instantly killed William Burley, 11 years old, and mortally wounded his brother, Albert, 17, near Sodom shops the night of February 7, 1918.

In the opening of the case the contention was made by the plaintiff that the Halley boy was only 13 years old when he purchased the gun and ammunition, unknown to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Halley. The evening of the shooting the Halley boy, who was walking along the Baltimore & Ohio tracks west of Connellsville, was looking into the air. One of the shots struck William Burley, who was along the river bank, in the head, killing him. Another hit Albert Burley in the abdomen, inflicting a wound from which he died a day later at the Cottage State hospital.

In the case of Frank and Louis Ladone of Masontown against the First National bank of Masontown to recover $1,000 deposited there, with interest, a jury returned a verdict of $1,080. The strange feature of the case was that after the plaintiffs deposited $7,000 in the bank, for which they received credit, $1,000 disappeared. What became of it remained a mystery which the trial did not solve.

Another verdict for $1,000 was returned against the closed First National bank of Uniontown. Joe Palinsky and wife were awarded that amount on a deposit they made.

GEORGE A. SNYDER DIES SUDDENLY OF AFFECTION OF HEART

South Connellsville Man, Walking Along Street, Taken Ill, Expires in St. James Hotel.

Becoming ill while walking along West Crawford avenue about 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, George Adam Snyder of South Connellsville, entered the St. James hotel and before a physician could arrive died of heart failure.

The body was placed in charge of funeral director Charles C. Mitchell and later removed to the residence, the Atlas hotel, in South Connellsville. Mr. Snyder was a well known resident of this community. He was born in Cumberland, Md., on May 10, 1858, and was 61 years old. Coming here in 1897 he had resided in this city since. At one time he was a machinist in the Baltimore & Ohio shops and later was employed in the same capacity at the Leasing No. 2 mine of the H. C. Frick Coke company. He also worked at the Standard shaft of the same company.

For a long period he had been in the employ of Boys, Porter & Company in this city. He had worked there for more than 25 years. He was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the Knights of Pythias. He is survived by two sons, George of South Connellsville and Robert of this city, and two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Smouse of Brownsville and Mrs. Jessie Rhodes of Scottsdale. Two brothers, John of Connellsville and William of Mount Pleasant, also survive. Three surviving sisters are Mrs. Sophia Brickman of Connellsville, Ruth and Anna Snyder of Pittsburgh.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Atlas hotel. Rev. William H. Hetrick, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, will officiate. Interment will be made in the Hill Grove cemetery.

The Baltimore & Ohio basketball team will play the Y. M. C. A. seniors at the local gym on Thursday night. The game is of much interest in that institution, there being considerable rivalry between the two teams.

CALL FOR FOUR MINUTE MAN FROM LOCAL CHURCH

The following letter from Rev. Frederic Tower Galpin, pastor of the First Baptist church of Pittsburgh relative to the $60,000 financial campaign the First Baptist church, Connellsville, will make next Sunday afternoon speaks for itself: "Congratulations upon your comprehensive $60,000 program for the next four years and upon your splendid system. "We are undertaking something pretty big ourselves and I wish to submit a request, viz:—that on Sunday, April 11, you send the two four-minute speakers to tell my people what you did and how you did it. Fire kindles fire and we shall need your flame. May your lamps be 'bright and burning' and may your resources, visible and invisible, be adequate."

NEW YORK DIVINE HERE WEDNESDAY TO BOOST DRIVE

Dr. Edwin M. Poterat Will Speak at Rally in First Baptist Church.

OTHER CHURCHES INVITED

Another gifted Christian leader will be in Connellsville to instruct the First Baptist congregation in its $60,000 campaign this week. Rev. J. Earle Edwards has received a wire from New York assuring him that Dr. Edwin M. Poterat will positively be present Wednesday to speak at the last week-night meeting before the canvass Sunday, March 25. A great opportunity awaits the listeners.

Dr. Poterat was called from the presidency of Wake Forest college in North Carolina, a Baptist institution, to take up his work with the general board of promotion of the Northern Baptist convention. He is now in charge of the religious life department for all the million and a half Baptists of the North. He has written very much on the present forward movements of the great and small denominations. Stewardship is his chief theme. He is related in a very mild manner with the Interchurch World Movement, having delivered the chief address in the recent Harrisburg pastors' conference where 1,700 ministers of all the denominations in the state were present.

It is regretted by the Baptist church that this meeting could not be held a night when the churches of the town could participate more generally in the meeting. The meeting is open to everybody but coming on prayer-meeting night could hardly be expected to be patronized by other church leaders. Since this is the last week of the Baptist $60,000 campaign it is necessary for the church to plan every evening and moment for the matter with the greatest possible held in mind for the particular effort now at hand.

The meeting will be called at 7:30 in the auditorium of the First Baptist church.

WORDS OF ENCOURAGEMENT

COME FROM FORMER PASTOR

Rev. Wilbur Nelson, predecessor of Rev. J. Earle Edwards as pastor of the First Baptist church, sent the following letter bearing on the $60,000 financial plan: "The announcement of your proposed effort to raise the magnificent amount of $60,000 to finance the whole work of the church at home and abroad for the next four years is thrilling. That you are able to do this splendid thing I know. That you will 'go over the top' with flying colors there can be no doubt. And that you are setting the pace for the whole denomination is a distinction to be proud of. I rejoice with you in these days of vision and inspiration. My heart and prayers are with you in this great undertaking, and I wish you Godspeed. The prospects are as bright as the promises of God.

"Mrs. Nelson joins me in greetings to the church and love to all our friends. We think of you often with grateful memory. We rejoice that you have a pastor to whose support you have rallied so enthusiastically, and we trust that you will find increasing satisfaction in all your work together."

OFFICERS BATTLE STRIKERS; THREE MEN ARE KILLED

Armed Poses of Miners Today Searching Kentucky Hills For Detectives.

SCENE IS MOUNTAIN CAMP

By Associated Press. MIDDLESBORO, Ky., March 23.—Harlan county, Ky., on the Kentucky-West Virginia border, was the scene today of much excitement. Bands of miners were searching the country for operatives of a detective agency who are alleged to have started a fight at Williams Creek, Saturday with miners which resulted in the killing of three persons and wounding of several others.

The clash was the outgrowth of ill feeling said to have existed in the Harlan county coal fields because of imporation last week of a group of detectives by the Kentucky Steam Coal company where a strike is on.

The dead are Budd Taylor, a miner; Deputy Sheriff John Burkes and James Hall, detective.

An attempt to arrest a son of Budd Taylor at a Williams Creek mining camp precipitated the battle, it is said. When Hall tried to take the boy into custody the elder Taylor interfered. In a duel following Hall and the elder Taylor were killed.

Other miners and guards rushed to the scene and a general fight ensued during which Deputy Sheriff Burkes was killed. More than 100 shots were fired. The fighting stopped when the detectives retreated.

The guards later were sent back to West Virginia by the mining committee. Miners of the county, numbering several hundred are reported armed with pistols and rifles and searching for any of the guards remaining in the county.

HUGHES DECLARES

ANTI-SUFRAGISTS WRONG IN VIEWS

Federal Amendment, If Adopted, Will Supercede State Constitutions, Former Justice Declares.

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, March 23.—Claims of anti-suffragists that the Anthony amendment to the constitution, if ratified, would be ineffective in states where state constitutions restrict suffrage to "male" citizens until such constitution had been amended are erroneous, according to an opinion obtained from Charles H. ## COUNCIL ORDERS PROTEST AGAINST WATER RATE BOOST

City Solicitor Authorized to Start Proceedings Before P. S. C.

MENTION MADE IN MEETING OF ADVANCE

Announced By Bell Telephone Company But No Action is Taken; That Matter is Left to the Subscribers.

The increase in rates announced by the Connellsville Water company to become effective May 1 will not go unchallenged. City council Monday night authorized the solicitor to prepare a protest before the Public Service Commission, with which the water company has filed its new schedule.

According to recent announcement by the company the increase will be approximately 20 per cent. Justification is sought by reason of the fact that the rates in effect were prepared many years ago when living conditions were normal and that there have been no advances since the upward trend of prices began.

Reference was made in council informally to the proposed increase in rates by the Bell Telephone company but no action was taken. Some suggested that subscribers have recourse to discontinuance of service, something patrons of the water company cannot well take advantage of.

The water rate resolution was introduced by Councilman B. L. Berg.

CONFERENCE ON THE ## WAGE INCREASE TO

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES

Managers and Men in Joint Session, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The joint conference of railway managers and employees to consider wage demands totaling $1,100,000,000 began its sessions here today. The increase represents the demands for additional pay made by the 1,850,000 railroad workers in the different departments including train crews, shopmen, maintenance of way, telegraphers, clerks and others during the past eight months.

When the railroads were turned back to their owners on March 1 the managements were faced with an annual payroll of $2,770,000,000 as compared with $1,710,000,000 under private operation in 1917. The demands which have accumulated during the past eight months if granted will make the total annual payroll $3,870,000,000.

The Interstate Commerce Commission began hearings today to determine what increase in freight rates shall be allowed the railroads for adding $1,000,000,000 to their payrolls during the time that they were under government control. Experts have estimated that in order to provide the 5 1/2 per cent guarantee given the roads under the recent railroad bill freight rates will have to be increased 25 per cent to meet the increased labor cost put on by the government. Consequently any increase that may be given the men as the result of the joint conference about to begin will come as an additional burden on the shippers and consumers through a further advance in tariffs.

It is estimated that each increase of 1 cent an hour in wage rates adds $70,000,000 a year to the payroll requiring an advance of 1 1/2 per cent in freight rates. The granting of the new billion dollar wage demands would under the law mean a further 10 per cent advance in freight rates on top of the 25 per cent advance about to be considered by the commerce commission.

"CHIN CHIN" DELIGHTFUL

Dillingham's Musical Comedy More Than Pleases at Wilson.

Chin Chin, the latest Dillingham's musical success, delighted a large audience at the Wilson theatre last night. Excellent choruses work beautiful costumes and magnificent scenery were features of the show.

The whole cast was good. What the audience liked most was Tom Brown's saxophone solo. I notice after a score greeted this kind of musicians, organized in down outfits. Walter Wall and Rev. Funder comedians in a half dozen roles caused many a laugh. Starr Dunning as Anaddin, John Lawler as Violet Bond and Donna Montan as The Goddess of the Lamp were excellent in their roles.

The next attraction at the Wilson will be the Belcon comedy. Daddies tomorrow night. Indications are for a capacity house for the great play.

WJNS TOURNAMENT

Donald LaRue is Boy Checker. Tomorrow night "21" at the Wilson.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe in Dark- en and Beautifully Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.—Adv.

A Friend Recommended Them.
A person often does more good than he realizes when he tells a suffering friend how to get well. J. N. Upon recommendation of a friend, I tried Foley Kidney Pills and began to get relief almost immediately. Good for backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

OUR BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

As agencies for promoting the substantial growth of home-building in communities the building and loan associations have long ago passed beyond the experimental stage. Today it occupies a position of permanence and utility second only to that of banking institutions. That Conneltsville home builders have appreciated their value is attested by the success attained by the three associations operating in the city.

Managed wholly in the interests of the shareholders, and by the people whose chief concern is the steady and sure growth of the community, the building and loan association offers facilities which cannot be otherwise supplied. That persons who do not have any considerable sum of money laid by as a fund to start building a home, but who are desirous of realizing this laudable ambition, can apply to this purpose what had previously been paid out in rent, is a feature of the building and loan association which has so strongly commended it to popular favor.

Not every prospective home-owner has realized the advantages of this useful institution, however. A fact which makes pertinent the suggestion that the associations in Conneltsville could advance their own and the community's interest to advantage by a campaign of publicity that would serve the purpose of acquainting a large number of persons with building and loan methods. We are on the eve of a great expansion along all lines in Conneltsville. Every facility that can be employed to enable citizens to acquire or increase the number of homes should be encouraged; and become so equipped that they can amply provide for the needs of the bigger Conneltsville that is just ahead of us.

EQUALIZING COAL PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION.

Of the many plans suggested as a means of bringing about an equalization of coal production and distribution, between the summer and winter seasons, none appear quite so practicable as that embodied in a bill recently introduced by Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey.

This plan has the merit of simplicity as well as being without provisions or features that would tend to derange economic conditions. In brief, it provides an incentive for buying coal in summer and a penalty for delaying buying until winter. This is to be effected through the establishment of seasonal freight rates. In the summer a 15 per cent reduction is applied to the tariffs. In winter 15 per cent is to be added, making coal freight rates 30 per cent lower in summer when consumption and demand are at the minimum than in winter when both are at the maximum.

"This is economically sound," says the American Metal Market. "It gives the coal consumer a definite and precise amount by which the cost of his coal, delivered, will vary. The cost may vary according to variations in the value of coal at mine, but the variation in the freight cost would be definite and precise, and would be known positively in advance. The proposition is also sound in that it bears a proper relation to costs. Undoubtedly the railroads can haul coal in summer much more cheaply than in winter. It is quite fitting that the low cost operation should be encouraged, and that what amounts to a penalty should be placed upon the winter movement of coal, when with the reduction in coal movement to be expected the railroads would still be kept quite busy with the remaining coal and with other freight."

In practical application of the system there will doubtless have to be some modifications. Thus, instead of making the expiration of either the summer or winter schedule effective upon the date the schedule of the succeeding season became effective, it might be found necessary to graduate the advances and declines. Otherwise there would result a disarrangement of traffic movement. For instance, just before the change to the winter schedule the railroads would be congested by a rush of shipments to secure advantage of the summer rate, and just before the change to the summer schedule there would be a withholding of shipments in order to await the application of the lower rates. Such conditions could be easily overcome, however, by giving such flexibility to the rate regulations under which the law would be made operative as would keep the movement of coal fairly uniform, or at least avoid both serious congestion and pronounced suspension of shipment pending rate changes.

The principle involved is so sound and the need for a method of equalizing tion is so urgent that nothing should be placed in the way of the early enactment of the measure.

With attractive and winsome young ladies of the high school on the organization staff of Company D there ought to be little trouble in recruiting the whole Tenth regiment in Conneltsville.

Senator Shields could make good use these days of an armor and fire-proof shield to ward off some of the piercing and hot messages being sent him by his Italian correspondents.

The term of court now drawing to a close has been remarkable for its length, and some other things, notably the latter.

The welcome extended by the Lutherans to their new pastor is an expression of the sentiment of the whole community. May he be as good as he came to Conneltsville as Conneltsville is glad he came.

Why a plan to organize a separate anti-dry party? Hasn't Senator Hitchcock, Governor Edwards, Judge Bonniwell and other moist advocates already irrevocably committed the Democratic party to the repeal of the 18th amendment?

THE FISHERMAN.

Observe the quiet fisherman, go watch him by the brook,
And note his code of honor with rod and line and hook;
There are no crooks upon him, no tongues to praise or blame,
Yet if he be a fisherman he truly plays the game.

He does not fish for fishes, he serves a nobler creed.
He does not fish for numbers or more than he may need.
He glories in the struggle where sun and water dance,
But in the fight he's waging he gives the fish a chance!

And now he feels a nibble, and now his line grows taut!
And soon another victim unto his reel is brought.
But oh, the catch is tiny! He takes him from the hook,
And gives him back his freedom, and gives him to the brook.

Oh, fisherman in numbers along the stream of life,
Why should we not in honor observe the rules of strife?
Should we not scorn to injure the underdog and weak,
And hold our love of justice above the goals we seek?

Elderly People Have A Daily Health Problem

Stomach muscles and digestive organs slow to act as age advances

MOST people find the years slipping by without realizing it, until suddenly confronted with the fact that they can no longer digest everything they would like to eat. It then becomes their daily task to avoid what they know to be chronic constipation.

When exercise and light diet fail it will be necessary to resort to artificial means. Strong physics and cathartics, however, are not advisable for elderly people. They are too powerfully and a feeling of weakness results.

What is needed is a laxative containing effective "but mild" properties. This is best found in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin which is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It acts gently and without griping, and used a few days will train the digestive organs to do their work naturally again without other aid.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been on the market since 1892 and was the private formula of Dr. W B Caldwell who is himself past 80 years of age and still active in his profession. It can be bought at any drug store and one bottle is enough to last even a large family many months. It is a trustworthy preparation.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest-selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to, Dr. W B Caldwell, 511 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

NEW ILLS OF THE FLESH HERE WITH THE SPRINGTIME

Troublesome Seeds sown by the "Flu" as well by Winter.

It is needless to argue that the body reaches winter and with lowered strength. Everybody knows it does. And everybody knows that with this coming of the seasons change the body needs a "spring tonic." These who have been at grips with influenza know further that in their cases more toning and building up will be needed this month and the next than six.

Nerv Worth stands ready to fill the bill. It steadies and strengthens the nerves, whets the appetite, aids digestion, restores the liver, regulates the bowels, restores restful sleep, banishes sick and nervous headache and other aches and pains, builds up run down systems. In doing this, it becomes the best of spring tonics. No need to dwell on this either. Make the test yourself—buy a bottle of Nerv Worth and if its contents do not tone and build you up in the way described, the druggist will hand your dollar back.

Ask for Nerv Worth Laxative Tablets 25c a box. Taken in connection with Nerv Worth the liquid they do a great work. Especially useful in thoroughly cleansing the bowels for those whose habits of constipation do not readily yield to the laxative properties of Nerv Worth the liquid. The Connelville Drug Store and the Broadway at Scottsdale set Nerv Worth—Adv.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open, eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholated Aroclor into a pint bottle then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholated Aroclor in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholated Aroclor into a pint bottle then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholated Aroclor in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

RESERVATIONS FOR WASH-JEFF

Reservations for the game on Monday, March 29, between Henry's Collegians, the former Wash-Jeff varsity, and the Unity Fraternity, will be played at the high school, will be sold at Wertheimer's store beginning Thursday. One entire side of the gymnasium gallery will be reserved for this game at a slight extra charge. Mail orders should be sent to "Manager," c/o Unity Fraternity, North Pittsburg street, Conneltsville. Prices are given in an advertisement on another page of this issue.

The game is one of the best treats offered Conneltsville fans in a good many years and will practically close the door season in the city. The collegians have some remarkable players in the line-up and efforts have been made to get the best talent the college region offers to represent the Fraternity.

CONNELLSVILLE GIVEN TWO BERTHS ON ALL-STAR TEAM

In the choosing of an all-star quintet of basketball players for the third section of the W. P. I. A. league, which embraces the Conneltsville region, is no mean task. Those having the ability and knowledge of the game to choose cannot let any personal feeling sway them in their selection of players for his team. That those who are fitted to make the selection are bound to be criticized stands to reason, as each player, no doubt, feels ought to be mentioned for the honor.

In our all-star aggregation of players, which has been made after careful investigation by those fitted for this work, we find that Conneltsville has two players with this honor thrust upon them in Hume and Danner, forward and guard respectively. The selection of these two players for the team will be gratifying news to Coach Alderfer, whose efforts to place his team at the top of the division after a hard season were not successful.

Without any partiality being shown, the Courier's all-star scholastic team of the third section of the W. P. I. A. is as follows:

Hume, forward, Conneltsville.
McMunn, forward, Norwin.
Blasek, center, Latrobe.
Kifer, guard, Norwin.
Danner, guard, Conneltsville.
In the all-scholastic W. P. I. A. team, Hume again appears in the line-up, with the pick of Conneltsville.
Hume, forward, Conneltsville.
McMunn, forward, Norwin.
Sebold, center, New Kensington.
Mull, guard, Fifth Avenue.
Kifer, guard, Norwin.

C. H. S. SHOULD PARTICIPATE IN SCHOLASTIC MEET

On May 28 a monster scholastic athletic meeting will take place at Schenley Oval, Pittsburgh, under the auspices of the W. P. I. A. L., in which 40 schools will participate. Invitations have been issued and the committee in charge anticipates the greatest scholastic meet of track and field events in the history of Western Pennsylvania.

The program includes 200-yard, 220-yard and 440-yard dashes, one mile running, high jump, pole vault, hurdles, throwing the discus and javelin and the shot put.

As the plans for having a baseball team at C. H. S. cannot successfully be accomplished this year, the action taken by the school authorities on receipt of the invitation to participate in this meet will be awaited with interest. C. H. S., in our opinion, should not overlook this event. There is ample material among the students and, with proper coaching, they should give a good account of themselves.

We understand that in Coach Hall, C. H. S. has a competent all-around mentor who is qualified to handle the high outfit. For a training field the students could utilize Fayette Field.

Why Have Ugly Itchy Pimples?

Simple Treatment Clears Skin Quickly of All Unpleasant Eruptions.

For several weeks past A. A. Clarke has done a big business and made lots of friends simply by recommending and selling HOKARA—a skin healer that has miraculously aided many Conneltsville people in restoring to them a clear, natural, healthy skin.

HOKARA by its purifying, healing qualities has been found to correct quickly all minor skin troubles such as pimples, blackheads, dandruff, acne, eczema, complexion blemishes, itching feet and piles. It cures, soothes, and even chronic eczema respond readily. There has yet to be found any form of skin disease that HOKARA does not greatly help, and its action is so quick, pleasant and healing that those who have used it are delighted with it. In spite of its unusual healing powers, the price is a trifle. To convince you of its merit, A. A. Clarke, druggist, will sell you a liberal sized jar for only 50c. If it doesn't do what it is claimed to do, you can get your money back.—Adv.

SLOW DEATH

Aches, pains, nervousness, difficulty in urinating, often mean serious disorders. The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles.

GOLD MEDAL BARLEIN OR

bring quick relief and often ward off deadly diseases. Known as the national remedy of Holland for more than 200 years. All druggists, in three sizes. Look for the same Gold Medal on every box and wrapper.—Advertisement.

The expense of outfitting the athletes would be nominal; the results beneficial. The football players who would be numbered among entrants would get a course of training that would put them in the best of condition for the hard scrimmages on the gridiron.

Ducknell Freshmen Here.
This afternoon at 4:15 o'clock a game of basketball will be played at the high school gymnasium between the local high tilters and the Ducknell College freshmen. In taking on this aggregation of fast players, C. H. S. is stacking up against a strong outfit.

A game of basketball in which much local interest would be aroused would be a contest between the Unity Fraternity and the local Legion quintets. Apparently such a game has been overlooked by the managers of the respective teams.

That a big turnout of basketball fans will witness the game between "Fat" Henry's Wash-Jeff players and the Unity Fraternity seems assured. Requests for reservation of seats have been received from all the nearby towns, the fans of outlying districts knowing a good thing when they see it. Scoutdale will send an especially large delegation.

It is regrettable to note the lack of interest shown in the games of basketball in which the local high school girls are the contestants. The girls should have more support from the public. In our opinion, the ladies put up a game well worth going a distance to see. In Miss Struble the team has a player whose playing is on a par with upon them in Hume and Danner, forward and guard respectively. We admit this is a rather broad statement, but a true one. Any keen judge of basketball will vouch for it. If there was an all-star team chosen from the girls' teams of this section of the state, Miss Struble would be the outstanding star of the aggregation.

In the coming of the Elizabeth tilters here next Friday night to mingle with the local high brigade, a whole page of praise could be written of this outfit, if space permitted. Imagine a small town down the Monongahela river with a school enrollment of only 50 pupils, 25 of whom are boys, and of this small number a basketball team was organized. This team recently defeated our own C. H. S.

It is to be trusted that gents who squeeze the Eagle so hard it resembles a stopk before parting with a dollar, will keep the bird looking natural by sending it to the Conneltsville baseball club fund.

Flatwoods.

FLATWOODS, March 20—Rev. J. W. Hays spent Thursday evening at Smithfield attending a father and son banquet of the J. W. H. Sunday school class of the Baptist church of that place.

The severe wind storm on last Friday afternoon badly wrecked the tool house of Benjamin Sisley. The building was damaged considerably, and many of his farming tools and vehicles were broken.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Griffin and three children have been ill for the past week with very severe cases of influenza but are now some improved.

The Ladies Aid and Mission society of the Flatwoods church held an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Leslie Byers on last Thursday. The meeting was well attended. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. D. G. Esington.

The state road leading from Vanderbilt to Flatwoods is now almost impassable for automobiles, and on some of the hills it takes four horses to haul the machines through the mud.

LOCATION OF PROPERTY:

The company owns under lease approximately 209 acres of oil and gas territory in Bullskin and Conneltsville townships, Fayette County, Pa. This is reputed to be the largest single gas field owned by any company controlled by Conneltsville individuals. Surrounding acreage being owned by the largest oil and gas companies, namely: The Manufacturers Light & Heat, The Greensboro Gas and others. YOU KNOW THESE COMPANIES TAKE LEASES ONLY IN PRODUCTIVE TERRITORY. An unlimited market is adjacent to the field. The pipe lines of the Fayette County Gas Company run within 1,000 feet of our property.

EXPERTS' OPINIONS:

Our geologist, E. B. Force, of the University of Pittsburgh, after going over our field advised that our holdings which lie within the Conneltsville Quadrangle indicate through seepage, contour of the country, etc., large oil deposits. The fact that gas has been struck in large paying quantities in this county indicates that it seems quite possible that we may also get a large production of gas.

The Geologic Atlas of the United States (Brownsville-Connellsville Quadrangle Folio) on page 18 says:

"So far as geologic structure is concerned, (and in the field there seems to be a close relation between the anticlinal structure and the gas field) the Conneltsville Quadrangle offers more promising territory for the development of new fields than the Brownsville area."

Just Missed the Gusher
Bacon—What are these 'ol gushers' we read so much about in the newspapers nowadays?

Admiration.
"Did you grasp the significance of that lecturer's remarks?"
"Not altogether."
"Then why did you applaud so much?"
"Well, I admire brains and I thought that man must be awful smart to understand what he was talking about."

Pretty Small Figure?
"How much did you pay the minister when we were married?"
"I refuse to incriminate myself, my dear."
"What do you mean?"

The Only Difference
"If you only had all the money you have been away on the 'aces' said young Mrs. Torkins with a sigh.
"Well, what then?"
"Oh nothing much, Charley, dear. I suppose the only difference would be that you could take the lump sum and lose it faster in bigger bets."

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas, the people of our city have been led to purchase so-called remedies from which they have received no benefit whatever, and having thus wasted so much hard-earned money, it has come to pass that they know not what to believe.

Inasmuch as this unsatisfactory state of affairs exists, KNOW, THEREFORE, ALL PERSONS who are in need of such a medicine that we will supply them with VINOL on a POSITIVE GUARANTEE that if it does not succeed in benefiting them we will refund the entire amount of money paid us for it.

There is no one medicine that will cure everything, but there are some we know to be honest, reliable, and of great curative value. Such is VINOL; it is not a secret medicine,—just peptonate of iron and all the curative extractives of cod liver oil, combined with other body-building and strength-creating ingredients. The complete formula is on each label. We KNOW that it should benefit every one who uses it.

Could any offer be more fair than this? You are ill; we offer you medicine which we believe will help you, and if it does not we will return your money. Is there anyone foolish enough not to accept this offer? You owe it to your family, to your friends, and yourself to try this medicine which we give you our pledge is a genuine cod liver and iron preparation of great merit.

We unhesitatingly recommend Vinol as a Body Builder and Strength Creator for Feeble Old People, Delicate Children, Frail Women, All Run Down Persons, and Those Needing a Good Tonic after any Severe Illness, and for Coughs and Colds.

Do you think we could afford to lend our name to its praises, as we have been doing in the newspapers, if we did not know VINOL to be an honest and unusually valuable remedy for the ills for which it is prescribed? We certainly could not; we therefore ask you, our neighbors, friends and acquaintances to accept our assurances that this is a genuine offer, and that any and all persons who need a medicine of this character should feel a sense of security in accepting it.

Call and get a bottle to-day. You won't be sorry. LAUGHREY DRUG CO., CONNELLSVILLE; DUNBAR DRUG COMPANY, DUNBAR, AND DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE. You can get Vinol at the Leading Drug Stores in every town and city in this State.

INSIGNIA OF ANCIENT ORDER

That Now Worn by United States Army Medical Officers Goes Back Four Thousand Years.

The caduceus which was introduced in 1902 by Col. John Van B. Hoff, M. C. U. S. A., editor of the Military Surgeon, as part of the medical officers' insignia, dates back 4,000 years, according to F. H. Garrison, M. D., U. S. A., writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association. For a number of reasons the serpent was always the symbol of medicine in antiquity. The Babylonians caduceus, which as the insignia shows today—two snakes entwined with wings at the top of the staff—occurs in Hittite remains. It stands for an actual serpent god, Ningishzida, who as the special messenger of Ishtar, was the awakener of life in the springtime and the Mesopotamian prototype of the Greek Hermes. The Romans had a special functionary, the caduceator, who was a sort of peace commissioner. The caduceus was used on the title pages of books published by the famous medical printer, Frobenius, in 1480 to 1527. The wand of Mercury as it is sometimes called, was also carried by merchant traders in ancient times on excursions where peaceful negotiations were desired and they wanted to be known as neutrals.

Labor Troubles in China
The $40 a month which the Chinese coolie with his family drew from the Chinese government during his period of enlistment in the army is the basis for the labor disturbance which is rocking China at the present time, says C. C. Thompson of Shanghai in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. Mr. Thompson explains that prior to the war the average coolie made a monthly wage of $12 to $15, while having become accustomed to the new standard of living made possible by the $40 allotment he declines now to return to the old basis. Even household domestics have become affected by the new unrest and are demanding more money, he says. Recently because of the unsettled conditions there was a strike of dockworkers in China ports which held up all trans-Pacific traffic for a considerable time. Mr. Thompson states.

The House of Whispers

By William Johnston Illustrations by Irwin Myers

"If there's ever anything, the matter . . . Was there something sinister in the superintendent's parting remark? Once more the warnings of my relatives flashed into my mind. What was wrong in the house? Why did he anticipate that I might be calling him up? Why did he exhibit such an interest in me and in my acquaintance with the girl across the hall? Somehow the man's whole aspect had impressed me unfavorably."

I carried my bag back to my bedroom and unpacked it. The various attachments in the bath looked so inviting that I stripped and amused myself for half an hour testing the variety of showers and sprays provided. Donning my bathrobe I leisurely smoked an excellent cigar from a box old Rufus had thoughtfully—or perhaps thoughtlessly—left open on his desk, and then returned to the inspection of my new quarters.

As it was Sunday, I had a whole day of leisure before me, and I felt that I was to clear up the mystery that had driven the old couple out. It was incumbent on me to make a minute study of my surroundings. Only in the little rear sitting room was there any atmosphere of business. All the rest of the place was done in the best department store style, even to the richly bound sets of standard authors which lined the walls of the living room, most of which I found had their pages everted.

My search of the place—and it was thorough, extending even to the empty closets in the pantry and kitchen—revealed nothing whatever that gave any hint as to the cause or explanation of old Rufus' fears. The place seemed the least likely of all places in the world to hide any mystery, just a great, modern, luxurious apartment, equipped with every possible device for the comfort and convenience of its occupants. It would have to be an up-to-date ghost to find itself at home here.

But wait! Perhaps the safe held some clue to the problem they wanted me to solve. But where was the safe? I had not noticed it anywhere in my repeated journeys through the rooms. I made another tour looking for it. More than likely it had been located in some inconspicuous place purposely. But where? At last I located it, behind a faded crayon portrait of Mrs. Gaston, in the little sitting room.

I lifted the picture to the floor and stood hesitant before the safe. Should I, or should I not, open it? The fact that they had given me the combination seemed to imply that I had a perfect right to inspect its contents.

"Six to the right; four to the left; two to the right, eight to the left." As I turned the knob I repeated the combination to myself. There was a little click, and the steel door came open. Reaching in I drew forth two old-fashioned jewel cases of leather, both securely locked. I took from my pocket the keys my great-uncle had given me and toyed with them thoughtfully. Among them were two tiny keys that undoubtedly belonged to the jewel cases. Had I the right to use them? I decided that I had.

The first case I opened contained, so far as my limited knowledge of precious stones enabled me to judge, nothing but a bunch of cheap junk, bits of flint from another century, coral earrings that Mrs. Gaston may have worn when she was a little girl, combs of jet, amber beads, quaint hoop earrings and a ring or two, merely the trinkets of a vain old woman, treasured from the time when the money to buy them was scarce. There was nothing in the lot that any self-respecting thief would take, precious as they may have been to their owner. I looked up that case and returned it to the safe and opened the other.

As I raised the lid an involuntary exclamation of amazement and admi-set diamonds and loose fragments of pieces that had evidently been torn apart to add to other settings, the collection of a woman with unlimited money to spend.

With trembling hands I restored the jewels to their hiding place, twice testing the knob to make sure that the combination had set. The unexpected sight of such a vast fortune in gems had filled me with strange emotions, with thoughts so evil I hardly dared admit them to myself. There must have been nearly half a million dollars' worth of precious stones in that one case. The Gaston pearls in themselves were a fortune.

If only they were mine!

To every honest man at times come temptations as great as come to any criminal. No man knows whether or not he is honest until he has been put to the test. I knew! I was tempted, strongly tempted, to take my great-uncle's jewels. What was to hinder? The old couple were to be absent for months. They had left me in charge and had given me their keys and the safe combination. There would be abundant time for disposing of the jewels before their theft was discovered. With the money they would bring I could satisfy my craving for adventure. I could travel the world over.

Yet, as I look back at it, all the time I was thinking these thoughts, I knew I would not take the jewels. A normal man cannot steal. Even when his desires lead him to theft, his mind points out the folly and his conscience the wrong.

Resolutely I put the thought of the jewels out of my head—or tried to—and stretching myself out on a couch gave myself up to pleasant reveries about my delightful new acquaintance, the girl who lived just across the hall. I pictured myself finding some way of winning her confidence and of helping her out of her mysterious trouble. And what if eventually old Rufus should make me his heir? Surely I would need a mate with whom to share the joys of having a fortune. With visions of Barbara Bradford bedecked with my great-uncle's choicest jewels, I fell asleep.

It was almost dusk when I was awakened by the arrival of the expressman with my trunks. After I had unpacked them and had unpacked, I suddenly realized that I was hungry, for I had eaten nothing since breakfast. Hastily I donned my clothes, stopping only to count my money. With a week's salary in my pocket and no room rent to pay for several months, surely I could afford a good dinner to celebrate the change in my fortunes.

As I went out I stopped in the lower hall to chat with the telephone girl, ostensibly to ask her to take any messages for me, though I was expecting none.

"You're Mr. Nelson, ain't you?" she asked, eyeing me with curious interest. "Yes," I replied. "Mr. Spalding Nelson. I am occupying the Gaston apartment while they are away."

A flicker of amusement crossed her face, with just the suggestion of a sneer.

"I hope you'll enjoy living here."

"Why not?" I replied carelessly. "If any one calls, say that I will be home by ten, Miss—"

"Nellie Kelly," she added.

As I chatted with her the elevator had descended again, and three persons emerged, one of them being she for a sight of whom I had been intentionally loitering. One of the two persons with her was plainly the mother and the other I took to be an older sister. She resembled Barbara strongly, but there was a world-weary look in her face, and her heavy-lidded eyes seemed to me to be haunted by a weak, sensitive, passionate mood. But I had no eyes for her, so absorbed was I in the appearance of the girl I had met in the park. If I had thought her beautiful then, she was ravishing now. Her dark hair was piled high and caught back with a great Spanish comb. An ermine-trimmed evening coat of brocade swathed her figure, opening at the front just enough to give me a glimpse of her bare white neck. Involuntarily my hand went to my hat, but into her eyes came a naughty look and one hand went to her lips for just a second, as if she were warning me again not to recognize her. I stood there abashed as she swept by me to the waiting motor. The telephone girl's voice jarred me back to my senses.

"I thought you was a friend of the Bradfords," she said sardonically.

HE CAUGHT COLD EASY

Had Bronchial Trouble, Weak Throat; Was Very Weak.

MOTHER SAYS NEW TONIC IS GREAT

"My son had bronchial trouble for a number of years and his throat was so weak he would catch cold by just going outside. Many the weary sleepless nights he spent with a cough and that ever-present bronchial trouble. I was constantly afraid his health would break all at once and that he would succumb to some disease while so weak and frail, but he surely can't get sick now for he looks just grand. He got to taking Earle's Hypo-Cod, and is certainly improving fast. He sleeps so much better. He eats such great big meals and I can see he is so much improved in every way. I'm delighted. In fact he has secured such wonderful results I'm going to take a bottle of it myself. I tried a dose or two out of his bottle the other day and don't you know I haven't had a sick headache since. It is fine and I recommend it as a tonic to everybody. It is surely a blessing that these big companies do make good remedies. It saves so many doctor bills and keeps a person so fit," continued Mrs. M. E. Robertson, 219 Mathilda St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Thousands fortify their system, drive out catarrhal, bronchial and asthmatic troubles with Earle's Hypo-Cod. Read what others say about it in almost daily issues of this paper. A bottle taken regularly will prove its merit. Try it. Read the formula on the bottle. You'll be delighted.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by Blais & Company and the leading druggists in all nearby towns. Price $1.25 plus 5c war tax.—Adv.

"Sure he is," said the voice of Mr. Wick behind me. "Didn't you hear the bars telling me he came in twice with Miss Bradford?"

"Well, what of it?" I answered lamely and fled from the house, indignant at this open prying of the employees into my affairs, yet entirely at a loss to know how to stop it. How could I tell them I knew Barbara Bradford, when she had just cut me dead?

Feeling vaguely dissatisfied with my first day in my new home, I heard a bus and rode downtown to a little French cafe, where my comrades, and I had been accustomed to go when we were in funds. All about me were merry Sunday evening dinner parties, and I was alone. Bire and Rolter had gone, and Miss Bradford had refused to recognize me. I hurried through my dinner, paid my check, and was leaving the restaurant when a corner table I spied the when-faced man whom I had seen in the park a few evenings before.

He looked up and caught my glance. In his face came a sterner expression, a look of malignant hate, not mingled with fear. Boldly I returned his gaze. I was tempted to walk right up to him and ask him what he had been doing in the park, and why he had warned his mate away when he saw me there. Yet I had no right to interfere. Miss Bradford had not taken me into her confidence. I had only suspicions to go on that the two men had been there to attempt some wrong on the girl.

Slowly I left the restaurant, puzzled more than ever by the malevolent glance he had given me, and perplexed as to how I was going to serve Miss Bradford, when she would not even recognize me.

CHAPTER III.

My great-uncle's pearls were gone—stolen—vanished from the wall safe!

Still discrediting the evidence of my own eyes, I lighted a match and peered into the steel-lined recess. It was empty. On the table beside me was one of the two jewel boxes I had contained, the one filled with worthless trinkets. The other, which had contained the priceless Gaston pearls and the other rich treasure, had vanished.

Today was Saturday. Six days before I had arrived in the apartment. There had been two jewel cases then. With my own hands I had put them both back safe in their hiding place. I recalled having tested the knob to make sure that the combination had set. Yet since that time someone had opened the safe. Someone had removed the jewels. Who could it have been?

To the host of my knowledge there had been but two persons in the rooms, old Mrs. Burke, my aunt's trusted landlady, and myself. Certainly I had not taken the jewels, and it seemed absurd to suspect Mrs. Burke, who had been in Mrs. Gaston's employ for years and had long been entrusted with a key to the servants' entrance. Yet who else was there to suspect?

Recovering a little from my bewilderment I hastened to the telephone. I must notify the superintendent and also the police that the apartment had been robbed. I decided, too, that I should wire my great-uncle Rufus of the robbery, and then it dawned on me for the first time that I did not know the old couple's address. They merely had said that they were going to Maine. Never mind, there was nothing that they could do in their absence. Probably I could get their address from the superintendent, or from Mr. Gaston's bankers. The first thing to do was to notify the superintendent.

But wait! With my hand on the telephone, I stopped short. It dawned on me that in all likelihood I would be the one most under suspicion.

If detectives were called in, I could see that their first move would be to lay the theft to my door. They would investigate everything about me, and I remembered with distress that I. Spalding Nelson, just now was out of a job—and far worse, stood discredited at the only place of employment I had had in New York.

My discharge had come that very morning like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky. The reason for my peremptory dismissal I had not been able to fathom. In some mysterious fashion my employer's wrath had been roused toward me. Why, I could not imagine. Certainly my life, especially since my two comrades had gone away, had been circumspect enough. Even though I was living in a seven-thousand-dollar apartment I was unemployed, all but penniless, just recently dismissed for some unexplained reason, and now more than likely to be accused or at least suspected of theft.

Yet only this very morning I had been taking an optimistic view of life. Delighted at having cut my living expenses in two, I had decided to take twenty dollars of the thirty-five I drew that day and add it to the one hundred and eighty dollars I had in the savings bank. I would mail a registered letter to my mother and reduce my indebtedness to her. On my way to business I stopped at the bank and drew out every penny I had there. It was my intention to go to the post office at lunch time to register the letter. Just before twelve, Mr. Wood, the head of the firm, had sent for me. "Mr. Nelson," he had said wrathfully, the minute I entered his office, "here is your week's salary. You will leave our employ at once."

Stunned both by his manner and his words, I gaped out something about not understanding what he meant. I knew of no reason that would warrant my discharge.

"I can't put it in any plainer English, can I?" he roared at me. "Get out!"

I held my ground.

"Surely I am entitled to some explanation," I protested. "If there's been anything wrong with my work—"

"Your work's all right," he belittled. "It's this," he cried, waving at me a letter that had been lying on his desk. "This letter is enough. It exposes you for what you are."

Dumfounded at his amazing statement, I demanded to see the accusing document. Angriely he refused.

"You know as well as I what's in it."

In vain I protested. Every word I uttered only seemed to add to his wrath. In the end he almost hustled me out of his office. Blindly I found my way to the street, still clutching in my hand the week's pay he had rudely thrust on me.

That letter to which he referred—who could have written it? What could have been in it that had so inflamed my employer against me? I racked my brains in vain, puzzling no account for it. I had not been aware that I had an enemy in the world, yet who but an enemy could have written a letter that would have such dire effect?

FEDERAL AID FOR ELECTRIFICATION STEAM RAILROADS

As Means of Conserving Fuel and Lessening Non-Revenue Freight.

SATISFACTORY RESULTS

From Change to Electric Locomotives
On the Chicago, Milwaukee & Saint Paul, 42 Doing More Work Than 112 Steam Motors Which Were Replaced.

"Approximately 122,500,000 tons of coal or more than two-thirds the coal now being burned by the 63,000 steam locomotives of the country, would have been saved during the year 1918 and can be saved today," were the claims of the United States committee electrified along lines fully tried out and proved successful at the present time," said A. H. Armstrong, chairman of the electricification committee of the General Electric Company before the last meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

"This vast amount of fuel," he continued, "is 50 per cent greater than the pre-war exports of England and twice the total amount consumed by France for all its railways and industries."

While not proposing immediate electrification, Mr. Armstrong presented new and heretofore exclusive data on the subject and emphasized the great future of electrification in the interests of national conservation and greater production for our common carriers. The most striking points of his address can be summarized as follows:

"Approximately 10,000,000 KW would have been sufficient to run all the railways for the year 1918. The estimated power station capacity of the country in 1918 was 24,000,000 KW, or twice as much as would be necessary for complete electrification."

"A quarter of all the coal mined in the United States (578,211,000 tons) is consumed on our railways every year."

"Fully one third the coal burned under our steam engines today is absolutely wasted in sundry losses (banking fires in round houses, clearing fires for starting, coasting down grade and standing on track.)"

"On a prominent American railroad, 42 electric locomotives have replaced 112 steam engines and are hauling a greater tonnage with reserve capacity for still more. It is an open secret that the reduction in previous steam operating expenses on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway is sufficient to show that electrification is a profitable investment. The return on the $12,500,000 expended for the 440 miles of electrification, without deducting the value of the 112 steam engines released for service elsewhere."

"The total ton-mile movement on all railways of the country for 1918 was 1,215,400,000,000 ton-miles. Of this total 175,100,000,000 ton-miles were expended in non-revenue producing traffic, such as hauling coal for railway operating service."

"The railways of the country consumed 175,000,000 tons of coal in 1918, about 122,500,000 tons of which could be saved by electrification."

"Electric motive power" for railways can be maintained for approximately one-third the cost of that of steam engines for the same train tonnage handled."

"For the same freight tonnage handled on the Rocky Mountain division of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, electric operation has effected a reduction of 22.13 per cent in the number of trains, 24.3 per cent in the average time per train and has improved operating conditions so that

COAL DUST LODGED IN MINER'S LUNGS

Tells how his cough was conquered and health restored.

"In November, 1916, I was working in a coal mine and the doctors said the coal dust had settled in my lungs. I couldn't lie down on my right side, coughed so I couldn't sleep, and had constant pain in my chest. I was under my shoulder blades. I coughed so hard the blood would spurt out of my nose. Finally the doctors had me change climate and live outdoors, but didn't improve."

"Then I came home and started on Milk's Emulsion. Then, God, I did, as it did me a lot of good right from the start, loosening up the coal dust in my right lung. In a few weeks my lungs were free. I could sleep like a baby, had an excellent appetite and my cough left me entirely. I gained back 30 pounds in weight and went back to work in the mines completely restored to health."—G. H. Bunn, 5th Ave. & No. 15th St., Terre Haute, Ind.

Thousands of victims of dust-filled air, develop the same trouble that Mr. Bunn had. Milk's Emulsion costs nothing to try, so why not at least try it? Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It helps build flesh and strength and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases.

"This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream."

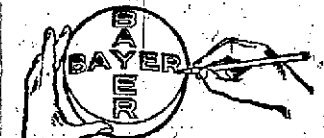

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under his guarantee. Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Write for the Emulsion to J. C. Parry, Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

nearly 30 per cent more tonnage can be handled by electric operation in 50 per cent of the time it formerly took to handle the lesser tonnage by steam engines. The capacity of this single track line has been increased 50 per cent and probably more. On this particular road, electrification has affected economies which sufficiently justify the capital expenditures incurred and furthermore, has postponed for an indefinite period, any necessity for constructing a second track through this mountainous country."

The last point emphasized by Mr. Armstrong was that if all our railways were completely electrified, they could carry one-fifth more revenue producing freight tonnage with no change in present operating expenses of track congestion.

"I am not, however, proposing the immediate electrification of all the railways in the United States," he said, "but am offering these statistics simply as a measure of the magnitude of the problem confronting us in the future."

During the year 1920, the people of this country will pay out for automobiles, not commercial trucks or farm tractors, but pleasure vehicles, a sum of money considerably greater than the estimated requirements of our steam railways for this year. The railways, however, may find it very difficult and perhaps impossible to secure the large sum needed without government aid, notwithstanding the fact that the continued operation and expansion of our roads is of vital necessity to the welfare and prosperity of the country and all its industries. The will of the American public has always been constructive and undoubtedly, in due time, its voice will be heard and properly interpreted by its representatives in Washington with the resulting enactment of such laws as will permit our railways again to offer an attractive field for the investment of private funds."
